Power of two means that taking the log with 2 as the base gives an integer .

An integer has the same value when put inside the ceil() and floor() function.
However, 1 is special

Checking the values of ceil() and floor().
And listing 1 as a special case.

Outputting the result.